

STILL THANKFUL: 2020_11

Pastor Fred Kenney Jr. (above left on keys), Randy Yelton (drums) and Roy Larsen (bass) perform a lively rendition of "Go Tell It On The Mountain" during the "CHRISTMAS JOE" play and concert in January. Check it out until the end for not only a spirited crowds reaction but an inspiring message about worshipping in the thick of it... when it gets rough and the enemy is lying to you!

2020: A Year of Vision?!

NO WAY TO SUGAR COAT IT

We had high hopes for 2020... as I'm sure so many have had. We started out the year strong with a final seasonal performance of "CHRISTMAS JOE" in January and then all came to a screeching halt as plays were cancelled and the nation held its breath.

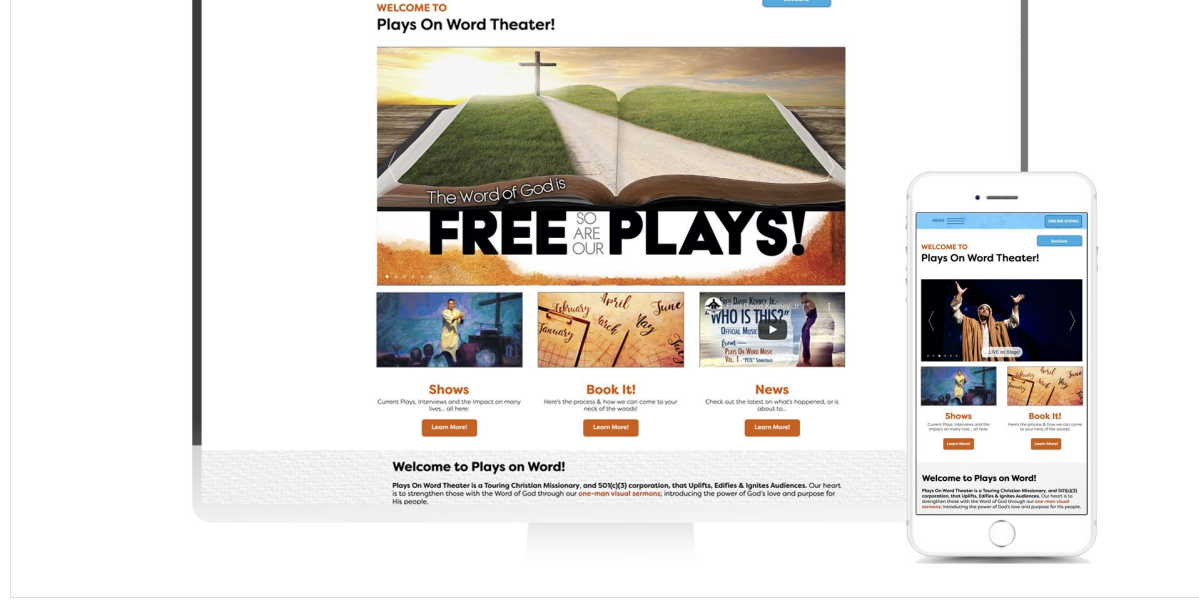

We know we are not called to live in fear and timidity but there were pockets of this past year that would be a challenge for even the strongest of Christians. Yet, amidst the sorrow of watching some succumb to this pandemic... loved ones.... businesses.... dreams... were also pockets of pure joy. We came to cherish and cling to the small, continual reminders that God is still in control and that none of this is a surprise to Him.

So while it wasn't what we thought it would be, 2020 WAS a year of clarity for us at Plays On Word. God gave us the time to reboot, redesign, refresh, all the while making the vision and path ABUNDANTLY CLEAR. Scroll down to see what's new...
